DEATH PLOT DISCOVERED BY CZAR IN PALACE

JOSEPH H. MANLEY IS FOUND DEAD AT AUGUSTA, ME., HOME

FAMOUS POLITICIAN, ORIGINAL BLAINE MAN, SUDDENLY PASSES AWAY.

Special to the Boston American. AUGUSTA, Me., Feb. 7.—Joseph H. Manley, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Republican National Committee for several years, was found dead in his bed today. He was sixty-three years old. He was one of the most prominent Republicans in the country, had a remarkably detailed grasp of American political affairs, and was considered one of the chief factors in securing the nomination of James G. Blaine for the presidency.

Original Blaine Man. Joseph H. Manley knew American politics well few men better. In a State renowned for her statesmen and politicians Manley ranked among the first. That he was chairman of the Executive Committee of the Republican National Committee for several years proves this. He was a prime factor in securing the nomination of James G. Blaine for President, though he could not vote for the Cleveland candidate, and he was a leading spirit in the various financial institutions. In the course of his long life he acquired about two millions of dollars. He was a man of great energy and was the originator of a number of public works. Joseph H. Manley, to use his full name, was born in 1842. He attended the famous Abbott Little school in Farmington, Me. He came to Boston at the age of sixteen to study law and stayed there two years. He then went to the Massachusetts bar, where he became a member of the bar, and he was a member of the bar in New York.

Early in Public Life. At the age of twenty-one he was a member of the bar in New York. He was appointed a commissioner of the United States District Court of Maine the same year, one of the youngest Federal commissioners in the country. He was in Augusta City Council, and he was a member of the State Senate.

Fought for Tom Reed. In 1887 he was made chairman of the Republican State Committee of Maine, succeeding Mr. Blaine. He held this position seven years. In 1892 he was elected secretary of the Republican National Committee, and he was a member of the committee in 1896. In 1898 he backed Thomas B. Reed for Governor of Maine, and he was a member of the Reed campaign. He was a member of the Reed campaign, and he was a member of the Reed campaign.

Panic at Tsarkoe-Selo When Letter Informing Him of Conspiracy to Kill Him in Revenge for Sunday Massacre Is Picked up by the Emperor Himself.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Another plot is afoot to kill Emperor Nicholas of Russia. The Czar himself discovered the existence of this new peril. Instantly he summoned every trusted guard, every official in whom he had faith, has surrounded his palace with cordons of Cossacks, and has adopted repressive measures which are of far more severe type than anything thus far employed.

Secretly the Emperor fears that this new attempt is to be made by a traitor in his own palace. He has not been visible at all to his officials since the discovery of the new plot. Instead, he has locked himself in, isolated himself from all save his immediate relatives.

RIOTING IS RENEWED. Moscow's alleged discovery of the Plot to kill the Czar. From Warsaw, meanwhile come reports of renewed rioting. Twenty men were shot down by troops at Kalisz and the conflict between the government and the revolutionaries continues. In Lodz a Cossack and a workman were killed in riots. Factories are making an effort here to open, but the situation is still critical. In Tiflis strikers with red flags are now making a demonstration.

ASSASSIN NOW A HERO. Professor Johnson was slain for political reasons. The Finnish student who killed him, Lieutenant Alexander Gadek, is now the hero of the moment throughout the Czar's territories where blood has been spilled. The cause of the crime was the Letter Revealed Death Plot. According to dispatches here, the Czar was watching through the corridors of the Tsarkoe-Selo when he noticed a letter in

ATTEMPTS TO RELEASE HAVE BEEN TEMPORARILY ABANDONED.

Attempts to drag the Nantuxet Lightship No. 66 into deep water from her position around some bouldering rocks have been abandoned for the day. The peril of the ship is still great, but the fact that the results which had gone to her assistance did not take off the crew points to the fact that she is still in sound condition.

GAS PROFITS GREEN AFTER CUT IN PRICE

This Fact Regarding Charlestown Company Brought Out at To-day's Hearing.

INCREASE OF DIVIDENDS

An unsuccessful attempt to lead Samuel J. Foster, treasurer of the Charles-town Gas and Electric Light Company, to explain why the contract between the company and the Massachusetts Pipe Line Company, whereby the latter sells gas to the Charles-town company at thirty cents per 1,000 feet, is not to be renewed upon expiration in time, was the main feature of the early part of John T. Auerbach's re-examination of Mr. Foster at the hearing before the State Commission today on the petition of Charles-town citizens for eighty-cent gas.

The non-renewal of this contract is the rate basis for the Charles-town company's contention that it will not be able to sell gas at the reduced rate. Former Attorney General Pittsburg appeared for the gas company and Mr. Auerbach for the petitioners.

Mr. Auerbach asked Foster why he did not say that the contract was not renewed. Foster replied that he did not know. Mr. Auerbach then asked Foster why he did not say that the contract was not renewed. Foster replied that he did not know.

THE YALE ENTRIES FOR B. A. A. CONTESTS

BOSTON MAN PRESIDENT OF AUTO CLUB

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—President Harry Nelson of the National League on his return from a Western trip this morning said that there will be no changes in the baseball rules of the year but in the contrary notwithstanding.

The National League mogul predicts the greatest season that baseball has ever known to be reached in the near future. He is known to have said that the Boston National League Club will be transferred to Baltimore, declaring it to be "absolutely inevitable."

Went Change Rules.

"All this talk of rule changing at the coming meeting of the National League, which begins at the Hotel Victoria on February 15, is sheerest nonsense. Not a rule will be changed. The only rule that will be changed is the one that says that the National League will stand pat on a Saturday and one on a week day."

The first strike rule, far from danger of abolition, is a rule that will be changed to make it more effective. To eliminate it would be to retrograde. We might as well return to the "catcher's rule" of play and require, as in the old days, that the catcher should receive the ball on the house.

"There is no reason why any rule should be changed and none will be. You can mark on that."

There is no reason why any rule should be changed and none will be. You can mark on that.

Will Draw Up Schedule.

The National League will draw up its schedule, and after its adoption exchange with the American League for theirs. We used simultaneously, the National at the Hotel Victoria and the American at the Hotel Hamilton.

At the request of Frank Robinson, president of the St. Louis team, the meeting of the National League was held at the Hotel Victoria on February 14 at the Hotel Victoria. In this city, the National League has been called for the purpose of the investigation of a game between the St. Louis and Pittsburgh, played the latter city on Jan. 20, 1905. This is the game featuring a pitcher who is known as "Old Hoss" Baker.

After six points were made, the National League will draw up its schedule, and after its adoption exchange with the American League for theirs. We used simultaneously, the National at the Hotel Victoria and the American at the Hotel Hamilton.
